In 2011, legendary entertainer Glen Campbell was diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease. Kim stood by her husband's side and courageously decided to share his battle with Alzheimer's by documenting Glen's Goodbye Tour. Kim remained by Glen's side every step of the way for what turned out to be an extensive, 151 show world tour culminating in the documentary, Glen Campbell: I'll Be Me. Kim now spends her time raising awareness for Alzheimer's patients and their caregivers.
