

2017 Memory Care Calendar Order Form

Order a 2017 Calendar showcasing art created by our very own residents!

Only $10!

Carefully designed art-making activities can be an antidote for declining confidence and self-esteem, especially for those suffering the tragic effects of dementia and other forms of irreversible cognitive impairment. With the help of Carol Dana, Creative Engagement Specialist with Arts for Well-Being, Sagepoint Senior Living Services was able to offer enticing activities designed to tap into the brain's still-strong creative pathways of our memory care residents. The seniors' beautiful artworks remind participants that they can, in fact, complete tasks successfully and that they can achieve results that exceed their expectations. Proceeds from the sale of these calendars will be used to support further art programs for Memory Care.
